Chris Cox is an expert stunt performer and F2B legend, celebrated for his daring stunts and extra low bottoms. Known for his good looks and intelligence, Chris is a friend to small orphaned animals and admired for his kind and medically enhanced heart (see Stent News 2023, issue 3). He is the creator of the now wildly-acclaimed “elevator wedges”, a simple yet revolutionary tool, and the mastermind behind the 1st Canadian Hellcat, now a renowned series of stunters. Alongside his trophy wife, Joan, Chris enjoys both professional acclaim and a fulfilling personal life. With a reputation as an all-around good guy, Chris has earned respect in the industry and among those fortunate enough to call him a friend.
